DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The invention claims in lines 2 and 3 at least one pair of a panel, which makes no sense. It either has to be a pair of panels or just a panel. For examination purposes, it will be assumed to mean one panel.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-6 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Siegenia (WO 00/73608). Regarding claims 1 and 3, Siegenia illustrates in Figure 7 a separation structure, the structure comprising:

- Assembled separator means (see Figure below), and

Art Unit: 3635

- Seal means (see Figure below) inserted between the separator means;
 - Wherein the seal means are fluid dynamic expansion means and are formed by at least two (there are 4 illustrated) separately expanding tubular ducts each of the at least two tubular ducts being selectively supplied with one of positive pressure fluid or negative pressure fluid to cause each duct to expand or contract (notice in the figure that two of the seal means are contracted and two are expanded).

The examiner notes that the prior art does not distinctly disclose this object being used in the pharmaceutical art; however the reference teaches this structure to be a door or window which could easily be used to separate objects in the pharmaceutical art. The examiner also notes that this language is purely intended use which is not patentable because it does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from the prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations (Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ 2d 1647 (1987)).

Regarding claim 2, Seigenia illustrates in Figure 7 (see above) wherein the separator means comprises at least one of a first separator panel and a second separator panel, and a third panel is positioned and connected between the first separator panel and the second separator panel; the seal means formed by the ducts being connected to the first panel and the second panel and to the third panel.

Regarding claims 4 and 5, Seigenia illustrates in Figure 7 seal means (see figure above) having two chambers (see blown up Figure below). The examiner notes that the Figure is already in cross section and each seal means contains at least four sides which form the two ducts.

Regarding claim 6, the examiner notes that it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to modify the shape of the ducts / gasket in order to fit a certain separation structure. The triangular shape would perform the same sealing function and produce the same predictable results as a circular or rectangular shape.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
